Vet Bills

Please help us with our veterinarian bills

We have had the strangest weather this year, causing some medical issues new to us and to our horses:

We've had 2 cases of summer sores and some other issues requiring our vet Dr. Glaza to spend time treating our precious equines.

We could use some help with our vet bills and hope for our supporters to give through our PayPal button on our Facebook page, or send a donation check to our address at the end of this newsletter.

We always appreciate your support for our wonderful horses!

Ready for Adoption:

Salina - 2014 Thoroughbred filly

Salina has come soooooo far in her training with Moriah. She is smart, learns very quickly and enjoys all the new routines.

Check her out showing off lateral movements in the video on our Facebook page

Her adoption fee of $ 700 will increase with our continued training of this perfect young lady.

You can find our adoption application on our website or by requesting it directly from us at 859-472-0021.

Rehomed with your help:

Jewel and TJ

Two Tennessee Walking horses, a blind mare and her best friend, have made the trip to their permanent sanctuary with your help.

We do not know how long Jewel has been blind but with the gelding TJ staying at her side, she has felt safe for a long time.

Blind horses are perfectly able to lead a good life in an environment in which they feel safe. We are grateful a blind horse sanctuary invited her and her best friend to live out their lives in beautiful, green pastures.

Honor has been adopted

Honor, 2008 Thoroughbred

by our longtime supporter and volunteer Molly. He will have a fabulous life with Molly's other thoroughbred Cappy.

Honor is the perfect height for Molly to get back into riding and we are looking forward to all the trail riding stories she will be able to share with us in the future.

Speak Up For Horses Updates

Magic, from unhandled stallion to love bug

Magic has been with his adopter Kope for four years now. She proudly tells the stories of his accomplishments and loves showing him off with beautiful pictures.

Magic has an energetic work ethic but also gives safe rides to total novices and young children. He's been MAGICAL in representing the potential of rescue horses.

Winter Is On The Way

And we need hay, hay and more hay.

Can we count on you to help keep the hay barn full, to assure our horses will be provided for now and in the coming months of bare pastures?

All donations are tax deductible
